

10. If I feel healthy, do I need to be screened?

A woman cannot tell if she has an abnormal area on her cervix as she may feel fine. By examining the cervix before there are any symptoms, abnormalities can be found and treated so that cancer is prevented.